ROSARIO'S PROGRESS.

The progress of Rosario seems really incredible to those who knew that town a few years ago, with its melancholy local trade and local politics. We believe that, comparatively speaking, the march of Rosario rivals that of Buenos Ayres; and when we look through the Rosario papers, read the arrivals by the railway each day, the entries and departures by steamers and sailing vessels, the tons of wheat and minerals and every description of produce, we lay down the paper satisfied that the growth of this country is but commencing, and that there is a latent vitality in the Plate that towers over every check and every impediment, and bears the whole nation along at a speed almost unintelligible to our previous experiences.

Our colleague the Capital gives the following table of the population of Rosario for the last 15 years, which clearly shows that year by year the place is growing in population:—

1870	24,817
1871	26,562
1872	28,368
1873	30,209
1874	32,145
1875	34,078
1876	36,100
1877	38,183
1878	40,328
1879	42,537
1880	44,803
1881	47,187
1882	49,551
1883	52,441

The Custom House gave the following returns for the month of March:—

	$ m/n.
Stamps	8,241.79
Patentes	2,491.00
Total	10,732.79

The following is the total of dues collected in the month:—

	$ m/n.
Imports	284,765.68
Exports	33,775.24
Total	318,540.92

During the month of March, from 15 to 20 "ultramar" vessels were chartered in Rosario to load wheat for Europe; and, to give our readers an idea of what is doing up there, we publish the following clearance for a single day (April 1st) in that port:—

Italian brig Sollecito sent to Diamante to load full cargo.

German brig Atlas, 500 tons wheat for Falmouth.

British barque Emma L. Shaw, 900 bales hay for Rio.

Italian barque Rosario, 700 tons wheat for Falmouth.

Besides the above we have—

The ss. Clyde, from Santa Fe, with 10,000 bags wheat for Liverpool.

The British ss. Canterbury ditto.

The Hamburg ss. Hamburg, 9,000 bags wheat for Hamburg.

The German ss. Petropolis 10,000 bags do.

Wheat, wheat everywhere. The Central Argentine Railway way-bill every morning would fill a column of our paper with its wheat consignments. The Western Railway Santa Fe also brings daily into Rosario a full freight-train of wheat; and now we hear that they have subscribed up there 250,000 pats. to start a new mill at one of the colonies.

Messrs. Maspoli, Chiesa & Co. have the German barque Anna discharging a cargo of agricultural machines; and Messrs. Mantels and Pfeiffer have now an establishment for the sale of these agricultural implements and machines, the rival of which is not to be found in Buenos Ayres.

Even up in the sleepy hollow, Santa Fe, the industry of the colonist has put a new start into the place.

The schooner Solari is loading 1,000 sacks flour for Rosario.

The German barque Lina has arrived there on charter to load a full cargo of wheat for Falmouth; and the Arroyo is as crowded with vessels as are the roads to the colonies with Swiss and Italian waggons carrying wheat to the little port.

What is much needed is the railway; but there is some delay in the business, although Messrs. Murrieta have the concession, and the line would be the best supported in the whole country. Yet people ask, why on earth are not the works begun?

The distillery in the Colony of Esperanza manufactured last year—

69,000 gallons alcohol.
10,000 „ gin,
25,000 „ caña,

and there is talk of another distillery being started in an adjoining colony.

Every steamer from Buenos Ayres brings fresh hands and fresh colonists with their families; and such is the great success of those, in a speculative point of view, that several Rosario merchants are now starting colonies themselves on their own lands, and all flourish and all do well.

A square league of rich, fertile, well-situated land for colonists is worth 100,000 pats., and the men of Rosario are going strong into this business, as it is the very best in the whole country.

More than 50 new colonies will be started in Santa Fe this year, and the newest is one between Pergamino and Melincue; and some parties are anxious to get 20 or 30 leagues of Mr. Alvear's land, at a fair price and on easy terms, to start a large French colony, the "empresario" of which has, we learn, arrived out from Normandy.

The following list of exports from Rosario during last month will close this chapter, and in official figures show our readers what is really going on up there:—

Exports free of duty—

Pasto seco, kilos 610,914; papas, id 14,548; madera de algarrobo, piezas 362; trigo, kilos 2,720,006; descarozados, id 24,297; plata piña, id 9,692; cobre en barras, id 24,040; animales en pié, 1; lino, kilos 285,760; harina, id 20,240; mineral de plata, id 21,090; borax, id 20,040; plomo, id 23,180; miel, id 38,796; afrecho, id 195,924; bismuto, id 10,255; maize, id 90,921; mineral de cobre, id 12,650; cera, id 1,350; estaño, id 212.

Vessels have arrived at Rosario with "adoquines," and the paving of the streets will be recommenced next week.

The net earnings of the Central Argentine Railway for February are £23,000 stg.; and this is the railway that, a few years ago, to turn the first sod, lands and privileges and guarantees had to be given to raise the capital!

The total value of the imports last month reached 1,038,188, and the exports, including what has come down from Bolivia, 1,162,000 pats.

The metals, etc., exports of the month were—

THE NEW BRITISH MINISTER.

On Thursday at 4 p.m. H.E the Honble Edmund Monson, H.M. Plenipotentiary, presented his credentials to H.E. General Roca, President of the Argentine Republic. The ceremony would have been unusually grand, but for the sad news, received by telegram, of the sudden death of his H.R. Highness Prince Leopold, Duke of Albany, as the square was to have been lined with troops, and the whole Estado Mayor in their brilliant uniforms would have filled the grand saloons of the Government House. The reception, however, was, under the circumstance, essentially private. The Honble Madame Monson, with her sister, were in a private room adjoining the grand saloon, and, with the exception of the Ministers of State, and Mr. Monson's secretaries the Hon. W. Barrington and Lord Frederick Hamilton, and President Roca's aides-de-camp, no one else witnessed the ceremony. The British Minister and his secretaries were dressed in their gorgeous uniforms, only used on State occasions, and were driven from the Hotel to the Government House in the President's state coach, with escort. Although Mr. Monson speaks Spanish fluently, he addressed the President in English, and the President, who reads and understands English well, replied in Spanish.

The Minister said—

Mr. President,

Having been appointed by the Queen, my August Sovereign, to be Her Majesty's Representative in this Republic, I gladly avail myself of this early opportunity of assuring Your Excellency of the zeal and interest with which I enter upon my honourable mission, and at the same time of expressing to Your Excellency my appreciation of the thoughtfulness which has, in consequence of the receipt of the lamentable intelligence of the affliction which has befallen Her Majesty, consented to a modification of those honours which are usually paid to a Foreign Minister on the occasion of the presentation of his credentials.

A continuous residence of several years duration in a neighbouring Republic, has, I venture to hope, enabled me to study with advantage those conditions of progress which are contributing to develop in these highly favoured regions an amount of social and material well-being which cannot but elicit the hearty congratulations of all those Foreign Nations which, as is especially the case with my own, are connected with the countries intersected by the River Plate and its Affluents by ties of important commercial and financial interest.

Charged as I now am with the duty of strengthening and extending the bonds of friendship and reciprocal benefit which so happily unite the Realm of Great Britain and the Argentine Republic, I look with confidence to Your Excellency and to Your Government for that aid and support in the discharge of my functions, which so enlightened an Administration will ever be ready to afford to the Representative of a Foreign Power whose policy is guided by no other considerations than those which relate to mutual international welfare.

Animated by these sentiments and by the most genuine desire to carry out efficaciously the friendly intentions of my Sovereign, I have the honour to place in Your Excellency's hands the letter by which the Queen has been graciously pleased to accredit me as Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Argentine Republic.

President Roca replied:—

Mr. Minister,

It affords me the greatest pleasure that Her Majesty, Your August Sovereign, has appointed you her diplomatic representative in this Republic.

I deeply regret that the sad accident to which you have referred, and which has thrown the British Court and British People into mourning, prevents my Government receiving you with all the honours due to your rank.

Your having filled for a long time a similar post in a neighbouring nation has given you such a knowledge of the social and political conditions of these countries and their friendly relations with your Government, that you will, at every moment, find facilities for the discharge of your high mission.

You may always confidently rely on the cooperation of this Government towards extending and strengthening the cordial bonds that unite the Argentine Republic and Great Britain. With these sentiments for my guide, and with a full conviction that, in discharging your high duties you will contribute to the maintenance and development of our friendly international relations, I feel honoured in receiving the letter of Your August Sovereign accrediting you as Her Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, in which character you are now recognised.

DECREE.

The Honble Edmund Monson having presented the letter accrediting him as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Her Britannic Majesty near this Government, the President of the Republic decrees:

Art. 1—The Honourable Edmund Monson is hereby recognised as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Great Britain near this Government.

Art. 2—Let this be communicated, published and registered.

THE FROZEN MUTTON QUESTION

The following letter, published in the Texas papers, will interest farmers here:—

Union Stock Yards,
Chicago, Feb. 2, 1884.

Chicago is rapidly advancing as a sheep market. January 1884 stands as the banner month for heavy receipts. Receipts of sheep were 103,119 head, or 23,428 head more than the previous largest receipts on record, which occurred March, 1883, when 79,691 sheep were received.

The competition is so strong here for good sheep that Henry Conley says he has an order for export sheep every week, but his firm has a buyer at Buffalo, where it is claimed good sheep sell as low as they do here.

F. Hershey bought 720 Nebraska sheep, 84 pounds average, at $4.00. They were shipped from Fairmont, Nebraska, by D. S. Hanks.

A lot of 446 fine wool Wisconsin sheep, 100 pounds, sold at $5.00.

During the week a lot of 75 sheep, 133 pounds, sold at $6. A. Adler of Tiskilwa; Ill., marketed them.

The market for Texas sheep is weaker than ten days ago, Common to fair Texans sell at about $2. 40@3.25. It is hard to say what good to choice Texans would fetch, as it is a very rare thing that the matter is tested by offerings of that description.

Cooper Bros, of Neola, Nebraska, had on the market 100 head of very choice fine wool sheep, averaging less than 100 pounds, which sold at $5.50 to Hollis. Western sheep, like western cattle, are favored by purchasers, because they shrink lightly after killing.

J. P. Hodgson, of Colorado, Texas, had on the market 390 Texas sheep, 70 pounds, which sold at $2.40.

In a private letter to the writer, from Burrton, Kansas, Mr. H. C. Reeder writes as follows:—

"Last fall I concluded to cull out some of my light shearing sheep, ewes and wethers, the ewes had lambs last spring, but the first of September I weaned the lambs and the 15th of October commenced feeding corn. The pasture was good at that time. I also had ten acres of sorghum they had access to. As soon as the grass began to fail I let them have sorghum and corn and by the 1st of November they were on full feed, and from that time to this they have had all the corn, sheaf oats and millet they wanted. They are a cross between Merino and Cotswold and Southdowns and are from three to five years old. I think by the first of February 200 of the best will weigh on an average in Chicago 115 pounds, and the others will not weigh much over 100 pounds. Have read your letters in the Texas Wool Grower with much profit. If the "Texas Wool Grower" had been alive ten years ago I should be far ahead financially."

Texas sheep and wool growers must improve their methods. The average quality of Texas sheep is so low that they are at a decided disadvantage in the mutton markets. They are at a disadvantage in the matter of mutton chiefly because they are not handled with any view to making them of value in the mutton market; they are seldom if ever fat or even "fleshy," and as a consequence are very light of carcass and have too large a proportion of bone and other waste. The matter of weight however is by no means of first importance; the chief question is one of fleshiness, fatness, distribution of meat on the carcass where the cuts are most valuable. An error is often made by sheepmen of the southwest in thinking that small sheep are not fit because the sheep of that section are small in body and bone and can never be anything else, that they are of no value as mutton sheep, and there is no use trying to market them so by feeding valuable fattening material. Many people think that large weight is the chief if not the only requisite. That this is wholly erroneous is proven by the fact that the large framed Oregon sheep unless fat and prepared for the mutton market do not sell any better for mutton purposes than Texas sheep. It is not a question so much of quantity as of quality. This must be remembered. It is true that the large framed sheep will sell better to feeders who want to take them into the country and prepare them for market, but ordinarily small bodied sheep sell proportionately as well or better than large ones possessing the same degree of fleshiness. The average Texas sheep is at a discount for two important reasons: It has nothing approaching fatness; hence no weight of carcass. And second, it has, as a rule, only a small quantity of closely clipped "hairy" wool on the pelt. Indeed this latter is often the strongest objection urged against Texas sheep by purchasers.

CHASCOMUS FAIR.

This very successful Fair was closed on Thursday with a very appropriate speech from the President of the Committee, Sr. Unanue. It is a source of great satisfaction that our popular countryman, Mr Patrick Reid, of the Espartillar estancia, carried off the two big prizes given by the Rural Society, the gold and silver medals. The following is a List of the prize winners:

THE REFORM BILL.

Feb. 27.

You may not take interest in Reform Bills, and you are right, for they belong to a bygone period. However, Mr. Gladstone has such a winning way of putting all the old questions of ancient franchises and of abolishing some of them that, for the next fortnight, unless Graham is defeated by Osman Digna, we shall hear of little else but the ruin of the Constitution by the addition of some two millions of voters to the three millions already in existence. You will read your five columns and a bittock of the Times, in which Mr. Gladstone's lucid and canny speech is reported. He is a marvel, and his speeches are marvels, utterly confounding his adversaries by the powerful and at the same time polite way in which he submits his rather comprehensive measure to their consideration—as, in fact, founded more on their ways of thinking than on his own, or on that of the party he serves. Indeed, he appears so satisfied of the good-will of the Opposition, his greatest fear, he would make out, is lest too enthusiastic and impatient Liberals should object to the Bill, because it is not a complete Bill. But, as the Premier says, there never has been and never will be a complete Reform Bill, nor would any Minister or Parliament in their senses attempt a complete measure. The Government, he said, looked not to the perfect or to the utopian, but to the attainable. In other words, his Bill was made like the razors, not to shave but to sell. And for that purpose—or to pass—it is most cunningly devised, for it is unquestionably liberal enough in regard to the number of voters added to the list, whilst on the other hand, it virtually disfranchises no one. Before anyone can pass an opinion a great deal of careful analysis has to be made to ascertain whether the two million of voters added are really, in proportion to the increase of population, so vast a concession as might appear at first sight. What the Bill really is, is a County Franchise Bill with what Mr. Gladstone rather unfelicitously calls a "Service Franchise," meaning that people who occupy the houses of their employers, and are neither householders or tenants in the old parliamentary sense, shall vote as tenants. This clause will apply to both town and country voters, and it is or it may prove to be after examination a decidedly Conservative measure, as people who occupy other people's houses rent free or in lieu of salary or wages, are not likely to be very independent voters. Apart from the Bill being a County Franchise Bill, it simply extends the principles of household suffrage instituted by the Conservatives themselves in the Reform Bill of 1867.

Proceeding to describe the provisions of the Bill, and dealing first with what he called its affirmative side, Mr. Gladstone said that in boroughs the ancient rights franchises would be left untouched; the household franchise of 1867 and the lodger franchise would also be undisturbed; the £10 clear yearly value franchise would be extended to land held without houses or buildings; and there would be created a new franchise, which he called a "service franchise," intended for persons who were inhabitants of a legal house, but neither occupiers nor tenants. This would leave four kinds of borough franchises—the £10 franchise, the lodger franchise, the service franchise, and the household franchise of the Act of 1867. With regard to the county franchise, in the first place he stated that the £50 franchise would be abolished for the sake of simplicity and uniformity; the £12 rateable value franchise of 1867 would be reduced to £10 yearly value; and the service, lodger, and household franchises of the boroughs would be imported into the counties. The changes thus described for England, he said, would be imported, "mutatis mutandis," into Scotland and Ireland; the borough and county franchises in the three kingdoms would be placed on an identical footing; and in each of the three kingdoms the occupation franchise would be four-fifths of the whole. As to the property franchise in counties, it was not proposed to touch it; and no condition as to residence would be imposed, but to prevent abuses the Bill would disqualify the incorporeal hereditaments capable of being used for creation of fictitious votes, excepting tithe rentcharges and hereditaments acquired by descent, marriage settlements, and wills.

Parliamentary reform he divided into three parts—extension of the franchise, registration, and redistribution. The Government would be prepared with a Bill on registration when this Bill had made sufficient progress; but it would be futile to attempt to deal with redistribution. Expatiating on the arguments against this course, he pointed out that the effect of joining redistribution with the franchise hitherto had been that redistribution had always been of a trifling character; that it would arouse local opposition, and, according to the experience of former Bills, would lengthen discussion and lead to complicated embarrassments. He admitted that redistribution ought to follow next session; but to the question, "Tell us, then, your plan," he replied by a refusal to be drawn into a trap. Nevertheless he had no objection to give his own view, without binding any of his colleagues, as to the principles which should govern redistribution. In the first place, it should be a large measure; but he was not in favour of equal electoral districts nor of distribution on any popular scale, thinking it an unnecessary disturbance of tradition, and not warranted by public opinion. He was not in favour of obliterating the distinction between shires and boroughs, and he would respect the individuality of towns, though he was not disposed to think that highly concentrated populations needed or ought to have the same proportion between population and representatives as the rural districts. He was altogether opposed to reduce the representation of Ireland, and while thinking that the small boroughs in the South of England must in some way or other be made to contribute for the satisfaction of the claims of London, the great towns, Scotland, and the North of England, he threw out a hint that the operation would be greatly eased by a limited addition to the numbers of the House. Finally, he pointed out that such questions as proportional representation, the minority representation, &c., could be considered in a Redistribution Bill.

The effect of the Bill, he estimated, would be to add to the existing three millions of voters some two millions more—viz., 1,300,000 for England and Wales, 200,000 for Scotland, and 400,000 for Ireland. This, he said, was something worth working for, and protesting his profound conviction that the Bill had nothing to fear from direct opposition, he concluded a speech of one hour and three-quarters by an eloquent appeal to its friends not to endanger it by disunion, by wandering into side issues, and by criticisms of minute details.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A club, said Dr. Johnson, is an assembly of good fellows, meeting under certain difficulties. The Rue Royale Club just now consists of anything but good fellows—it is divided respecting the suppression of the gambling scandal; and if the suspected two members, or one at least, about whom there is no doubt, do not retire, or perform the "happy dispatch," which would be considered a better atonement for the honor of the house, the club must be dissolved. The valet, who was partner with the black-leg members, and who marked the cards, is still under preventive arrest, but he means to bring an action against the club committee for false imprisonment, threatening to let in floods of light on that aristocratic club. As a general remark, clubs are not popular in France, Grimm complained they were the offspring of the Anglo-mania importation. In the provinces, where the club-house is under the control of the Prefect, and must close at a fixed hour, it is more of a business rendezvous than a social retreat, and men can ascertain the state of the markets and compare notes as to the solvability of clients.

There are about half-a-dozen clubs in Paris, all more or less respectable, but where play is the be-all and the end-all. The Jockey is the most important club, and was founded in 1833, by fourteen gentlemen, among whom were Lord Henry Seymour and Charles Laffitte, for the amelioration of the breed of horses in France. The conditions of admission are very severe as to the social standing and fortune of the candidates; each candidate must be presented by three members. The entrance fee is 500fr., and the annual subscription, 300fr. In the United Service and the Carlton Clubs the entrance fees are respectively £40 and twenty guineas, and the annual subscription ten guineas. The annual revenue of the Army and Navy Club is £31,000, including the entrance fees. Perhaps, the income of the French Jockey Club is one-third less. The members of the embassies accredited to France are admitted members, without the formality of a ballot. Distinguished individuals can be elected members for four months, on payment of 200fr., but members of the English Jockey Club are admitted as honorary members, on the invitation of the President. The famous Regence Club, dating from the eighteenth century, really limited its aim to chess-playing.

No club can be established in Paris without the permission of the police, and the play to be "tolerated" must be set forth in the licence, which includes whist, picquet, Loston, besique, dominoes, chess and billiards. In some swell clubs, which had degenerated into hells, the authorities interdicted all play, so that the members were reduced to the game of "bouchons," a kind of ninepins, played with corks. There are no artizans' clubs in France, association not being permitted, fearing such might be employed for political ends, or which correspond with the "craft-guilds" of antiquity. However, by a strange coincidence, the oldest craft-guild on record was that of the watermen, and that of the water-men of the Seine is the first in point of age. In Greece, when the president of a club retired, as he did annually, he was presented with a crown of ivy, olive, or poplar: sometimes the material was gold. Occasionally his portrait was painted or his statue sculptured for the club, but then he was expected to pay the lion's share of the subscription. The ladies had their club in the days of Old Rome, and its object was social and political. However, it confined its attentions to questions of dress and to social rank and precedence in public. During the Revolution France had a mania for clubs; one of the most singular was established in 1790 by the Abbé Fauche; its object was to banish hatred from the earth and unite all the peoples of the universe—by love—in one common family. Camille Desmoulins, Anacharsis, Clovi and Condorcet were members—but they died on the scaffold, save the latter, who poisoned himself to escape it. Tom Payne also belonged to the body.

There is a very curious scandal in the air. It is rumoured that in December, 1882, a very high official in the Post-Office Department embezzled money to the extent of one million, and that the affair has been cushioned. The press reiterates the charge, and demands that the official be unmasked. The authorities would willingly do so it informed who is the culprit. The papers are cited to denounce him, but decline, alleging that it is the role of the detectives.

The Queen of Tahiti, fearing an anti-Royalist demonstration, like Alfolnso XII., has arrived incognito. Her cigarettes, of which she smokes six dozen daily, were passed the Customs free. She is separated—and at 25 years to be unprotected—from her husband, King Pomare, who has a royal weakness for pretty snake-charmers; she expects M. Grèvy will increase her jointure and allow her to travel.

Great preparations are being made for the celebration of the ceremony of admission into the Catholic Church and baptism of Mdlle. Nevada, who is the popular cantatrice here; Mr. J. W. Mackey, and Faure the singer, will be her sponsors, and the leading artiste will assist at the ceremony.

The weather has chopped round from spring to Siberian winter. Perhaps it is a correction of the almanack. Formerly in France the year commenced on the 1st of March, the date chosen by Romulus, out of honour to Mars, but that the pious Numa changed to January. March has had over 31 days, and was charged with souvenirs and usages. It was in March the bails were adjudged of the public farms, when the vestals renewed the sacred fire when young men took the viril robe, and women served the tables of the slaves. It is in March that the Chinese Empress inaugurates the fete of agriculture.

IN MEMORIAM.

ELISABETH ANN J. HUDSON R.I.P

"Spirits and men by different standards mete,
The less and greater in the flow of time."
(Newman "Dream of Gerontious")

Human life consisteth not, when properly understood, in length of days, nor yet in loud and notable achievements. The former may fall to the lot of the wicked and the dis-olute, being to them a dreary waste of existence and to others a source of trouble, annoyance, and anxiety, and the latter are reserved as the work of a chosen few, and may not be regarded as within the reach of all men. The commonplace life of man consists, rather, in the faithful performance of everyday duties, in the quite and unostentatious practice of virtue, in the cheerful and uncomplaining bearing of the cross, which is to be borne by every conscientious man and woman in this world; whose does this fulfils the purpose of his creation. It is of such a life and of the lessons it teaches, that we would say a few words, to the honour of the memory of one who has recently passed from our midst.

Mrs. Elisabeth A. J. Hudson has grown up among us, she has lived, and laboured among us during all her life, and now it has pleased God to call her away, we reverently trust to a better world, and to the enjoyment of the "rest" which remains for the people of God.

It is impossible to be acquainted with such a life as hers, and not to admire it. We knew her as a daughter, when she was the joy of her father's house, and a model of filial affection and obedience. We remember her casting her lot with the people of God, and being received as a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to which her parents belonged, and we have had opportunities of witnessing her faithful discharge of duty as a church member, as a member of the choir and teacher in the Sunday School, which reflected in public the graces, which made her home life as a daughter, a sister, a wife and mother, a blessing to all who were privileged with her acquaintance, and the occasion of glory being rendered to God who so manifests His grace in the children of men.

To the worldling, and to those who are accustomed to measure all things by an earthly standard without any reference to to the true life,—the life of the soul—her last sufferings were, and must have been, a perfect mystery. To the Christian they have a full explanation, a perfect meaning—they served to show the triumph of grace over pain, to complete the victory of the Holy Cross over death and the grave, and we venture to say that those precious hours and days, and nights of suffering whilst they purified the soul of the sufferers and brought her nearer and ever nearer to the Great Physician, will be holden in hallowed remembrance by the bereaved husband and relatives as the evidences of and vouchers for that faith which made the life of their loved one so beautiful.

Whilst tendering the sorrow-stricken family the sincere expressions of our condolence we cannot but felicitate them on their newly acquired interest in Heaven, and bid them be of good cheer for "If we believe that Jesus died, and rose again; even so them who have slept through Jesus, will God bring with Him".

Requiescat in Pace.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Grand Pellegrini banquet in the Coliseum on Thursday night was the talk of the town yesterday. Close on 200 guests sat down to the dinner at half past 7 p.m., the guest of the evening having on one side Mr. Ataliva Roca, and on the other H.E. Sr. Madero, Vice President of the Republic, the Lord Mayor, Chief of Police, etc., Admiral Cordero, General Levalle, Mr Pacheco, S Unzue, Leloir; and amongst the numerous guests we noticed the following gentlemen:—

Dr Manuel M Zorilla, Uladislao Frias, Dr Juan Agustin Garcia, Dr B Sienz Peña, Dr Wenceslao Pacheco, Dr Lucio V Lopez, Dr Delfin Gallo, Dr Lagos Garcia, Pablo Groussac, Gregorio Torres, padre e hijo, Carlos Alkaine, Melchor Belaustegui, C M Villar, Enrique Quintana, Dr Bernardo Solveyra, Dr G Larsen del Castaño, Dr Adolfo Saldias, Dr Ruiz de los Llanos, Julio Costa, General Viejobueno, A Benitez, E Serantes, E Tornquist, G White, C D Sanford, Arturo Richard, Antonio Rocha, J M Ramos Mejia, General Alvarez, Santiago Bengoles, Colonel Donovan, O Bunge, Dr L Basavilbaso, Dr D Crespo, Eduardo Casey, Julio Dantes, Sargento Mayor Garcia, Dr J Damianovich, M Duggan, Ricardo Eastman, Comandante Espina, S B Gahan, Carlos A Mansilla, Marcelino Mezquita, Dr T Pinedo, E Olivera, Serafin Polinini, Coroneles Quirno, Godoy y Gil, Comandantes Gramajo y Dantas, L M Godoy, E Garcia, Meron, I Marco, Miguel Levalle, Luis Lozio, Dr Miguel Goyena, Baldomero B Gayan, Artayeta, Castex, E Casares, Antonio Goyena, Miguel Martinez, Julio Garcia, E Martinez, A B Lopez, Teniente Coronel Ignacio Garmendia, J M Muñiz, Toruato Martinez, and many others whose names we forgot.

The toasts were brilliant, short and to the point. Mr. A. Roca was the first to toast the guest of the evening. The Lord Mayor made a splendid speech. Dr. Pellegrini's speech, however, was the speech of the night: he apostrophized "Nationality" as the moving power of nations, and was applauded to the echo. We regret we have not room for all the speeches, as the banquet was most unusually convivial, and only broke up at 11.30 p.m.

The National Government has very properly declined to order intervention in the province of San Juan. The fewer interventions the better; they are usually the parent of much trouble.

Sr. Biggé, the National Government Engineer, has arrived at Bahia Blanca, and will at once commence building a custom-house down there. It is certainly about time.

On Thursday, about noon, the people of Santiago del Estero were frightened out of their lives by a series of severe earthquake shocks, not strong enough to tumble the houses, but the next thing to it. They say this is the first shock felt in that province. Our readers will remember the severe shock felt in this city in 1877, when Dr. Leeson thought the house next to the Provincial Bank would come down, and the floor of our office shook like a leaf.

There is a very stiff difference between the German navy of to-day and that which our facetious colleague Punch represented, a few years ago, as a toy-boat. The Imperial navy now counts 117 ships, with 587 guns; 13 are ironclads, and there are 31 cruisers, thirteen gunboats and 15 torpedo boats. There are ten rear-Admirals available for commanding this small but formidable squadron.

The weather yesterday was lamb-like; intensely 'soft,' but with a watery, devilish watery, look in its weather eye. Our friends in the South are busy drying themselves and their surroundings after the recent deluge, and they are preparing for the next, which is not far off.

The news from Europe by the Magellan has been telegraphed from Rio. The Gallic appetite for "glory" is growing by what it feeds on. Having taken Bacninh and a lot of guns, rifles and ammunition from the Chinese, the Paris papers now cry 'on to Langson Caochang, Thainghueng" and other unpronounceable places. The Times says the English troops must not leave the Soudan till the Mahdi is thoroughly beaten. It is said to be true that General Graham has offered a thousand pounds for Osman Digna's head. We shall be glad if he gets it, as that canting fanatic, since the English entered the field, has taken good care to confine himself to praying, while his ignorant but heroic hordes do the fighting. A great fire is reported from Trinidad; £80,000 damage.

That pact or truce between Chile and Bolivia is a caution. It was again reported as broken off yesterday, for the hundredth time. We suppose it will be on again to-morrow.

What a change! A subscriber who arrived yesterday from the Mount reports the place empty, and the hotel and lodging house-keepers living on their thumbs, the savings (mild word!) of the past season, and hope in the next. Three people at Pocitos! We salute them, they know that autumn is the season when bathing really invigorates the frame. The Rivor Plate system of summer bathing—an hour, and often two, in the water—is most debilitating and injurious to health.

All ye who have little money and know what to do with it, beware of false ten cent notes, which are now floating innocently through the purses and pockets of the public. They are so well done that the only way to avoid a pecuniary disaster is to double the note in two, and if the t in the word centavos is exactly in the centre, then the note is genuine, otherwise not.

No wonder that speculators want to get hold of the Capital Lottery. It yielded 102,000 Nats. profit in the first quarter of this year.

To the list of approaching fashionable marriages which we give in another paragraph, we must add that of Mr. Michael Murray of Carmen de Areco and the lovely and accomplished daughter of Don Francisco Roca, cousin of President Roca. The preparations at the groom's estancia are of the most lavish order.

A funeral Mass is celebrated this morning in the Merced Church, for the late Madam Dolores Pacheco, who died on this date last year.

There is a delicate question raising its head in the papers. It is, will Mr. D'Amicis charge an 'entrada' for his Conferences, or not? We don't mind laying a monkey to a pony that he will. Art, Literature, Science, Progress and a lot of other superfine things will be his themes.

We regret sincerely to state that Dr. F. Garrigos continues in very poor health; he has been confined to bed now for some time, and we hear that at a consultation of doctors it was determined to perform an operation.

General Villegas, we learn, will shortly leave for Europe; his health is somewhat better but the doctors order him a sea voyage.

All the Calle Rivadavia will soon be shut off to cart traffic, as the street is to be opened and the big pipes are about to be put down.

Number 6696 won the 10,000 pats prize in yesterday's Lottery.

The Northern Railway is forming a Fire Brigade amongst its employes. An excellent idea.

The returns of the British Hospital for March show 47 patients on the 1st, 59 admitted, 64 discharged, 3 died, and 39 in the House on the 1st inst.

A murderous attack was made yesterday at noon on Mr. P. N. Cernadas, member of the Municipality. The agressor's name is Maximo Balleto, who had just come out of the Penitenciaria where he had been confined for an attempt upon the life of his own father. At the corner of Cangallo and Azcuenaga, Balleto, who was in company with other individuals, on meeting Mr Cernadas left his friends and attacked the latter with a dagger, infl

Pildoras Holloway.

Las virtudes de esta admirable medicina son especialmente eficaces para expulsar de la Sangre toda impureza. En los casos de debilidad, ella es incomparable, al paso que cura radicalmente las Indigestiones, y los desordenes generales del Higado, del Estomago, y de los Intestinos, restableciendose, como por encanto, el vigor y la salud normal, dichas Pildoras remueven asimismo las dolencias que suelen afligir a las Mugeres al llegar estas a la edad critica.

Unguente Holloway.

Este incomparable Balsamo sana los Males de Piernas y de Pecho, las Llagas Antiguas, y aun esas Ulceras cuyo orijen no conviena mencionar en un anuncio publico. Para todas las Erupciones cutaneas no hay remedio igual al Unguente Holloway, al que millares deben la salvacion, tanto de sus Brazos y Piernas como de su existencia.
Antes de comprar, examinese con mucha cautela el Rotulo en el Bote o la Caja, para cerciorarse si esta la direccion de 533 Oxford Street, London, pues si no esta, entonces se trata de perpetrar un descarado engaño.
☞ Se invitan a las personas que sean defraudadas por los vendedores que expenden 'Las Pildoras y el Uguento de Holloway' falsificadas para que se sirvan al comunicarme los pormenores, e inmediatamente para formalizar procesos legales contra los Ofensores, y recompensare liberalmente a los Delatores por el trabajo que se tomen, comprometiendome a que no haya trascendencia de sus nombres.

Cedulas A	100⅜
Cedulas E	88⅛
Cedulas F	84⅛
National Bank Shares....	135½
Nat. Bank Certificados..	45 prem.

There was a slight reaction in the share market simply caused by the Share King, and his friends holding back from buying; some few brokers sold pretty freely, but the hardness of the market was all the more apparent as prices did not break. Unless, however, the bulls enter and buy freely, it looks as if the shares will drop somewhat now to rise still higher when the reaction sets in.
In Cedulas there was a boom in Series F, and one or two brokers bought freely all of this Series that was offered; the sales of Series F to-day far surpassed the sales of the other Series, and many brokers think that as the stock is limited and the buyers strong, prices will run up to 86.
One lot of National Bank Certificates sold at 143½ pats. equal to 145 m/n. 150 Certificates; the stock is in good demand.
Exchange ruled a shade better; £20,000 stg. passed at 47 9/16 and close on a million of francs at 5 01 and 5.02; Reichsmarks 4.04; bills on Rio done at 11:200; bills on Montevideo freely offered at 3½, which is in reality the premium in the market on foreign gold. £1,500 sovs. bought at 3½ premium to send down to Montevideo.
It appears that the auction sale of Provincial Government land held last year in the 19th Section amounted to nil, as the land is put up again for sale by order of the Government, and will be sold on 30th June. Many land brokers and others complain of this business, as they say parties came in from the camp to attend the sale at great expense and were unable to buy any being completely outbid by people in town. Some of the land runs up to the Curumalan fence. We are not aware of the cause of this land being again put up at auction, but there must be a hitch somewhere; a leading land broker has sent us the following memorandum of the previous sale:—

Provincial lands in 19th Section sold at the Oficina de Tierras on 11th Sept., 1883—

		Per hectarea.
Lot sold	3,000 hectareas at	235⅝
	7,000 "	220
	10,000 "	215
	10,000 "	280
Total,	30,000

The above will be offered for sale again on the 30th June at the Oficina de Tierras Publicas in La Plata.
The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 12,200 at 100⅜
For cash E 23,350 at 88⅛
For April 30th E 15,000 at 88⅝
For cash F 79,200 at 84⅛-⅛-⅛-⅛
For April 30th F 30,000 at 84⅛-⅜-⅛
Sales, 159,450
National Bank Shares—
For cash 50 at 134½
For April 30th 3,700 at 135¼-135-134½-¼-½ to 135-134½-½-135-¼
For May 31st 50 at 136
Sales, 3,800
National Bank Certificates, 30 o/o paid—
For cash 150 at $143¾
National Bonds, 1881, 5 o/o—
For cash 10,000 at 75
National Bank certificados were sold yesterday afternoon 400 in one lot at 45 premium which is the highest price yet paid for this stock. There are many buyers in the market at this rate, but holders ask 50 premium and even at this price they are considered as extremely cheap as all the calls to be paid the bank are received at par and at the end of the year there will be thirty per cent more paid up which will make 60 per cent then paid on the shares and this time next year all the calls will be paid up and the new stock rank on a party with the old shares.
Another meeting of the Bahia Blanca saladero held yesterday the following board was elected:—
President A. Cambaceres—Directors S. G. Gomez, E. Casey and I Sanchez—Suplentes E. B. Legareta, J. Amado and E. Tornquist. It is time now that this concern makes a start, as a saladero down there is much needed also a freezing establishment for the export of frozen beef and mutton.
All the wooden houses are now put up in La Plata notwithstanding all the nonsense published about them. They look well and most comfortable.
Mr. C. T. Prebble, C. E., who built the Central Uruguay Railway, and lines in Hungary and elsewhere, is coming out in the R. M. S. La Plata to take charge of the extension of the Campana Railway to Rosario. He threw up the management of the Rio Tinto mines in Spain to come out here. His legion of friends in the Plate will be delighted to see him again; he is an old friend.
Mr. Dorman, Lloyd's agent, arrived up from Montevideo yesterday morning. He describes the place as fast asleep compared with six weeks ago. The report of a revolution was a silly "canard."
Mr. Peters' letter on this country, published in this morning's Standard, was the subject of much comment in English circles and met with the most general approval. His views are fresh, friendly, and to the point, and his remarks on the want of a better organization and bringing the country better before the people of England may possibly do much good. To-day Mr. Peters visited President Roca at the Government House; also Dr. Plaza, Minister of Haciends, and to-morrow Mr. Peters will have a long interview with the President at his private residence by special appointment.
The exchange market was very active today for the Nord-America's mails, but there seems little chance of the rates advancing so long as the Provincial Bank takes, although the same Bank is the principal drawer in the market. We only need the exchange market to rise to perfect the general improvement in the market, and had that Bank put down its rate to 47 and abstained from taking, it would have been all the better for the market, as then other drawers would have entered, and the Provincial Bank had no necessity to remit before August, and then all the exporters would be drawing. Thus the exchange market at present suffers from a want of judgment by those who are supposed to direct it.
The new Uruguay Bank, to be started in England by European capitalists, is still in 'tramites,' and we believe, that a further extension of time to start same has been asked of the Montevidean Government, and will, of course, be granted.
Telegrams were received this afternoon of a most gloomy nature, announcing something like a revolution in Montevideo, but from gentlemen who came up this morning we know that there is nothing in it.
At afterhours there was a sharp drop in Nat. Bank shares, some 1500 sold at dropping prices, and finally 600 sold at 134. Cedulas rule suspiciously firm, buyers F 84⅛ cash, and E 88⅛.
Nat. Bank certificados very strong, German buyers in the market, 1500 sold at 145, and late in the afternoon another lot, 600, sold at 146.
Exchange was passed this afternoon at 47½, and francs 5.01.
Discount brokers report money somewhat easier, and all the banks more liberal; at the Provincial and National Banks very large applications.
The Maskelyne is expected in Montevideo on Monday evening with dates from England to 15th March.
280,000 pats in gold shipped to Montevideo by the steamer this night.
20,000 Argentines gold purchased by a merchant for export at 2 premium.
The deed of sale for a square league of land in Loreto was executed to-day, the price paid 210,000 $; and the seller has an offer for 225,000 a league for two leagues adjoining and refuses to sell.
We hope our barraquero friends will favor us with replies on the questions published in this morning's Standard respecting the purchase of wool by an acopiador in the camp. The question at issue is of much importance to the gremio.
From the Plaza Once we have the following:—
122 waggons of produce arrived.
The arrivals to-day were:—
6,400 @ wool
3,935 sacks of wheat
610 do maize
413 bales hay
And much of other produce.
A little more business done to-day. Wheat from Costa in demand. Maize, cow hides and hay maintain their prices. Wool, and other produce continue flat.
The sales were:—
Wool—
1,800 @ good, 80, Cramer
2,000 @ borrega, 85, 72, M Duggan
600 @ borrega, 68, 63, Chillado

BANCO HIPOTECARIO

Esta abierto al servicio público todos los dias de trabajo desde las 10 de la mañana hasta las 4 de la tarde.

Presta sobre hipoteca con reembolso á largos plazas.

Por el valor del prestamo de cedulas hipotecarias que producen una renta igual al interes que cobra el Banco.

El valor del inmueble hipotecado no debe ser menor de $f 2000 ni el prestamo menos de $f.500.

Los prestamos hipotecarios no pueden exceder de la mitad del valor del inmueble.

El interesado se obligara a pagar una anualidad que dure todo el termino del contrato. La anualidad se compone del interes del capital prestado, del fondo destinado á amortizarlo y de la comision del Banco. La anualidad se divide en trimestres, y las cedulas que al presente da el Establecimiento son:—

Serie E.

Dura 20 años 100 dias 6 o/o de interes, 2 o/o de amortizacion y 1 o/o de comision.

Pagadas las anualidades convenidas por todo el tiempo del contrato, queda la hipoteca redimida, y libre el deudor de las obligaciones hacia el Banco. El deudor podra libertar el inmueble, en todo o parte, anticipandose el contrato.

El que pretendiese prestamos del Banco se presentara por escrito, designando el inmueble que ofrece en hipoteca de una manera precisa, acompañando los titulos de propiedad, los boletos de contribucion directa y espresando al mismo tiempo su estension el gravamen, o los gravamenes que deben ser levantados simultaneamente que se constituya el credito hipotecario. En la Secretaria encontraran el formulario y las tablas de amortizacion.

Los deudores por trimestres haran las entregas de 8 a 15 de Enero, 8 a 15 de Abril, 8 a 15 de Junio, 8 a 15 de Octubre.

Con el fondo cobrado por amortizacion, se rescataran cedulas por sorteos a la par, y con anticipacion de un trimestre.

Las ventas de las cedulas trimestrales las pagara el Banco de 1 a 15 de Enero, de 1 a 15 de Abril, de 1 a 15 de Junio y de 1 a 15 de Octubre.

El Banco podra servir de intermediario gratuito entre el capitalista y el hipotecario para la colocacion comercial de las Cedulas. A este objeto recibira depositos sin interes, que para su colocacion tendran la prelacion con que entraron al Banco.—Estos depositos pasaran al Banco de la Provincia.

El mismo Banco hipotecario recibe sus cedulas en deposito gratuito, dando al depositante una libreta que servira de certificado del deposito.

El deposito se admite desde una cedula de $f.50 que es el minimum de las que emite el Establecimiento.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Provincial lawyers dont want to go out to La Plata just yet. They would rather wait until next December, but as the Court says go, they must, there is no help for it, unless the petition that is being got up to soften the Court's heart strings be successful. We venture to say that it will; such touching appeals can never be refused.

The Chinese 'tableau' at the Politeama was an astonishing success. There was not an inch of room to be had, so it will be given for some time yet. We can recommend all to go and see it.

The new paper Ultima Hora gives the following list of marriages about to take place':—

"Justa de Elortondo and Miguel García Fernandez; Maria Unzué and Angel Alvear; Miss Bullrich and Mr. Mosquera; Miss Cambaceres and Fermin Irigoyen; Lila Meeks and Mr. Cullen recently arrived; Silvia Victorica and Julio Garcia; Maria Villafañe and Mr Lastra; Luisa Bernal and Anselmo Villar; Raquel Abella and Dr. Colombres; Miss Tornquist and Dr. Urdinarrain; Mercedes Soriano and Carlos de Latorre; Clotilde Labourdette and Pepe Palacios; Miss Frias and Emilio Martinez de Hoz; Lucrecia Guerrico and Exequielito Ramos Mejia; Miss Videla Dorna and Saturnino Zamborain, one, and Vicente Peralta with the other, Belen Zapiola and Alberto Serantes; Juana Zapiola and Carlos Campanillo; Clotilde Moujan and Alberto Centeno; Ema Wilson and Alberto del Campo, Maria Uriburu and Mr Castells; Maria Luisa Ocampo and Diogenes Urquiza; Miss Stegman and Diego Saavedra; Maria Luisa Cabrera and Samuel Wilson; Miss Atucha and Dr Agustin Batilana; Evangelina Farias and Juan Penco; Carmen Molino Torres and Calisto Oyuela; Miss Alzaga and Mr Dominguez; Miss Leloir and Mr Demarchi; Ernestina Gimenez and Federico Pasman; Rufina Luro and Mr. Gibson; Miss Leguineche and Carlitos Rom; Maria Luisa Serna and Ramon Oliver; Elena Roca and Benjamin Victorica y Urquisa; Elena Lastra and Dionisio Schoo; Miss Rocha and B. Iturraspe; Miss Romero and Lorenzo Lezica; Miss Villegas and Mateo Victorica; Maria Eujenia Carranza and Eduardo Rodriguez Lubary; Carlota Eguia and Emiliano Molina; Miss Zavalia and Dr Tedin; Miss Fajardo and Arturo Dibur; Rosa Bergallo and Martiniano Riglos; Miss Elortondo and Mr. O. Bemberg.

The apothecaries are having a bad time of it, and so better for the public. Severity in such a case is wisdom. The National Hygiene Department has ordered all the 'boticas' recently inspected to pay the fine imposed upon them by said officer within 24 hours, or undergo the penalty of being shut up. Most of them have already paid the fine.

The Hacienda Minister has ordered the renting of the old Aduana deposits at 200 nats. per month.

The Central Tramway Company have been fined 200 m/n for having their stables in Calle Rivadavia in a bad hygienic state. Mr. Fidela's leather factory in Calle Pozos was also subjected to the same impost, for a similar reason.

The Spanish goleta Esperanza went on fire in the Rosario port and suffered damages estimated at 2,000 pats. It was extinguished, thanks to the opportune and able services of the sailors of the Port service.

Dr. Rinaldi, the eminent oculist, has just succeeded in performing two most difficult operations. Two infant girls of a poor family in Tandil were born blind, which so touched the compassion of the neighbours, that a subscription to pay the doctor's expenses was started. On learning the circumstances, however, he refusedall remuneration, and his generosity was only equalled by the success that attended his efforts. The operation gave the best result.

Ciacchi is about to give his last performance in Chile, and will then open another season in Santiago. The Chilians were completely taken with the Mascotte.

"The moon," said a total abstainer, "is not quite a teetotaller, but she lets her moderation be known to all men, for she only fills her horn once a month." "Then she fills it with something very strong!" observed a bystander, "for I have seen her half-gone."
